

River form and measured gains: where do we need denser observations?

● Elongated / tributary-rich ● Mainstem dominated / sparse ● Broad / tributary-rich a: one receiver/point; b-c: one tributary pair/point, not 59 independent systems. All six elongated receivers share one system; sparse form has one receiver. Current/previous monthly bins only; every geometry delay reached the candidate upper bound. These weights are not measured channel velocities.